Testimonials

"The intelligence team provided us with invaluable insight and analysis in a high-pressure international dispute; We relied on their findings to develop many of the critical arguments in the case, and their imagery analysis played a central role at the hearing." International Law Firm

"The team ultimately proved so far ahead of their opposing expert that the Geollect software was loaned to their counterpart and ultimately, key areas of the intelligence team's findings were accepted without challenge." International Law Firm

"The investigation product set that Geollect produces is very impressive. The expertise and knowledge of the maritime environment within the team are clearly evidenced by the considered, corroborated, and scientific approach that they take in all of their reports." P&I Club
